SENATOR'S BLOOD IS GIVEN TO WIFE

blood began to flow from his veins to those of his wife. The transfusion continued for about an hour and a half.

Responds Quickly.

The patient responded to the treatment from the first. Gradually the color was restored to the lips and cheeks of the frail sufferer. But as Mrs. Lea's color was restored the flush faded from the cheeks of her husband. His thought was not of himself, and when the transfusion had continued for an hour and a half, he impudently turned not to arrest the operation while there was the possibility of a doubt as to the outcome of Mrs. Lea's case. But the surgeons, realizing the weakening effects of such a drain on the Senator's system, eventually stanching the flow. After the operation Senator Lea felt to the floor in a faint. He was immediately placed in bed and to-night is making splendid recovery of his strength. Not the least favorable element in his recovery is his buoyant mental attitude in consequence of Mrs. Lea's improvement. With the assistance of a friend he was able to walk to his wife's bedside to-day.

AVERAGE PRICE OF BONDS LOWER

Washington, June 19.—So many irregularities were discovered to-day in the bids for the $50,000,000 issue of 3 per cent. Panama bonds that the average price of the issue will be lower than was first estimated, and many bidders at first thought unsuccessful will receive some of the new securities. By the time $49,948,500 of legitimate bids had been tabulated to-day the price of the bonds had got down to 102.21. At this figure there were acceptable four bids of $1,000,000 each, which had hitherto been considered unsuccessful. It now appears that the National City Bank of New York will get probably $2,000,000 or $3,000,000. It bid for the entire issue. Treasury officials consider it safe to announce that any one who bid 102.2136 or higher is sure to receive some of the new securities.

COLLEGIANS READY FOR GAME

Washington Chamber of Commerce Nine Will Tackle Locals Wednesday.

A game of much interest will be played at Broad Street Park to-morrow afternoon between the Richmond Collegians and the Chamber of Commerce team, of Washington.

The Washington team is composed of the various stars playing in the amateur leagues around that city. They have had little trouble in disposing of their opponents this season, numbering amongst them Georgetown University, the Old Point team of the Tidewater League, and others.

They rank as one of the fastest organizations in the country. Their captain and manager is Phil King, the old Princeton baseball and football star, and among the players is Cy McDonald, who has quite a reputation among the Richmond baseball public, having played for Winchester several years ago, and was one of the first men to put the ball over left field fence.

The rest of the team is on a par with the big first sacker.

The Collegians, by annexing a hard-fought ten-inning game from the Cherokee Indians last Wednesday, made more friends and added another victory to their long list of games won. The public that witnessed the game then can rest assured that the coming contest will be much better played.

Plans for His Son.

Speaking of the time when his son, Robert, shall come back to Cincinnati to practice law, he declared that while "it has been pressed on him to have him go to some place where possibly his emoluments would be larger, I am determined, and he sympathizes with me, that he shall go to the home that knew his great-grandfather and his grandfather and his father, and that there he shall work out his life under the influences that I hope will be favorable to his success—at least in restraining him 'till the path and the limitations of an honorable life."

The speech of presentation was made by James Albert Green, president of the Commercial Club, who said his organization came without axes to grind and without petitions to present, to assure the President of the affection of the club members and their loyalty, adding that he esteem in which they have always held him mounts higher and higher day by day.

PAY BILL WILL PASS

Federal Government to Compensate National Guard.

Local military men are much pleased with assurances from Washington to the effect that the Pepper bill, designed to provide Federal pay for the officers and men of the organized militia, is almost certain of passage. It has the backing of the War Department, and the majority of members of both parties are said to have yielded to the demands made upon them by their constituents. The militia is practically sold for the measure.

Under the provisions of this measure officers would receive a percentage of the pay of their grade in the regular army, while enlisted men would get a specific amount for attendance at each weekly drill, not to exceed forty-eight in one year.

In this connection Major-General Francis V. Greene, of New York, takes the position that State aid to armories is more important for the National Guard than is Federal pay. Very few of the States have made even small appropriations for the building of armories, and a vast majority of the commands have most inadequate, uncomfortable and uninviting quarters. The first requisite, he contends, for a satisfied command is a social and athletic clubhouse as well as a drill hall.

WORK FOR MEDALS

Plan for Increasing Efficiency in Company A, Richmond Blues.

For the purpose of stimulating interest in military affairs among the members of the Richmond Blues, B. McDowell, of Company A, Richmond Blues, has inaugurated a series of competitions which include every man in the company. Squads will be formed, composed of seven privates and a corporal, to be permanently assigned as such. Accurate records will be kept for an entire year, beginning January 1, 1911, and ending June 30, 1912, of the attendance, deportment, military efficiency and care of military property on the part of every man. At the conclusion of the year every member of the squad making the highest percentage will be awarded a bronze medal, given by the company.

Where there are discharges, men will be from time to time shifted from one squad to another, so as to make conditions as nearly equal and fair to all as possible. But when a man is released, his record up to that time will belong to his old squad.

It is expected that good-natured rivalry will attend this competition of a nature so far for the best interests of the company.

Another proposition started by Captain McDowell is the award of a gold medal to the best drilled man in the company. This will be given at a competitive drill to be held at the beginning of July of next year.

ORDER SET ASIDE

Injunction Dissolved in Case Affecting Monticello Hall.

Judge Daniel Grinnan in the Chancery Court yesterday morning dissolved the injunction granted Saturday, restraining the agents of L. Ferrandini from razing Monticello Hall. This action was taken because the plaintiffs, suing through P. Whitlock, did not give proper notice to Ferrandini when the injunction was asked for. Judge Grinnan set June 23 as the time for hearing argument on the motion.

Meanwhile, by agreement, no further work on the building will be done. Ferrandini asks that the adjoining property owners be placed under bond to protect him from loss. The question of an appeal from the Police Court, where the injunction was ordered razed, doubtless will be completed in the Hustings Court next Saturday.

The German competitors Tilly XIV, the Sechund III, and the Wannee, in this order were well behind. The Beaver, the winner, is owned and was sailed by J. C. Eustace, George C. Cadney and George Nichols, of the Eastern Yacht Club. The times were: Beaver, 2 hours 49 minutes 15 seconds.

Cima, 2 hours 49 minutes 18 seconds.
